Limited number of participants

Who we are:

The International Master in Biomedical Sciences (IMBS) is a joint English language Program and collaboration between the ALU Freiburg and the Universidad de Buenos Aires. We annually welcome students from all parts of the world.

The IMBS team launches the new Bioethics module which will be taught in the week of August 10-14, 2015. External students are invited to participate in the course and the Bioethics symposium on August 14.

The students will have the chance to learn about and discuss ethical issues raised in the context of Human Health, Science, Technology and Research.

Thanks to the international group of teachers and students coming from Latin America, Europe and Asia, the ethical issues discussed will be analyzed from an intercultural point of view.

We would be happy to welcome you at the IMBS Summer School Bioethics Module.

Your IMBS team.
